

FPC Family,

Just a few reminders as we prepare for the weekend...

- > Time to change your clocks. Daylight Saving Time ends on Sunday at 2 AM, so grab an extra hour of sleep before joining us for Sunday School and Worship.
- > All Saints Day. This Sunday, we will recognize those in our church community who have taken their place in heaven over the last year. Names will be shared in all services, and a special moment of worship will be included in the 8:15 and 11 AM services.
- > Security Changes on Campus. We have upgraded our campus security to make it safer for all who come to our campus to grow in faith, attend school, serve, and worship. For details on this upgrade, please visit our Facilities page.

Finally, we continue our Stewardship campaign this week as we hear from Kirk Craig, CEO and Co-Founder of Agape Development, sharing his Here for the Gospel, Here for Houston story below. As you reflect on his testimony, we hope you will take a moment to express your commitment to the mission and vision of FPC Houston by submitting your pledge card for the 2024 calendar year today.

Please read on for updates on life at FPC this week...

STEWARDSHIP 2024

Here for the Gospel. Here for Houston.

Each week of our 2024 Stewardship campaign, we take a moment to share a story from someone in our community—members and local mission partners—who illustrate what it means to be Here for the Gospel, Here for Houston. This week, our testimony comes from Kirk Craig, CEO and Co-Founder of Agape Development. Kirk has a long history, personally and professionally, with FPC and is grateful to lead a ministry that shares our commitment to the gospel and to Houston.

As you reflect on Kirk's story and the ways FPC remains Here for the Gospel, Here for Houston, please take a moment to complete your pledge for the 2024 calendar year.
